More About Jewish Towns In the Ukraine

By Louis Fischer

The Jewish Telegraphic Agency presents the second article comprised of notes from the diary of its special correspondent in Russia. Mr. Fischer visited recently a number of towns in the Ukraine thickly populated by Jews and this article gives the correspondent's impression of Jewish life in Kamenetz-Podolsk and Vinnitza.—Editor.

(Copyright, 1923, Jewish Correspondence Bureau)

Kemenetz-Podolsk is near the Roumanian border and nearer the Polish border. Once it was the capital of Podoli gubernie, but on account of its exposed position, the seat of the government was removed to Vinnitza. The circumstance which brought about this change also explains the prosperity of Kementz. The Roumanian frontier is hermetically sealed on account of the animosity that exists between Bucharest and Moscow, as a result of the Bessarabia tangle. But the Polish border is a midas, so to speak. Trade, money exchange, boursing bristle in the town, and the Jews who constitute two-thirds of its population are not the sufferers. People are remarkably well-dressed, cheerful, healthy-looking and active. Nobody is very rich, but privation, hunger and business depression have more or less disappeared.

Kamenetz is charming in its frame of snow. It is built on a hill around which runs a deep, moat-like gorge cut by a tributary of the Dniester. One stands in the city and sees far below in the cut, the rude huts of the dwellers of the valley. The river is frozen and some one is drawing water through a hole in the ice. From here, green-brown cliffs mounted with forests rise perpendicularly. The Turkish wall and fortresses which the Turks built in the seventeenth century to strengthen these natural fortifications can still be seen. The visitor imagines he has discovered a Turkish or Mongol strain in some of the inhabitants. There is a certainly some Roumanian intermixture while the influence of the proximity to Poland cannot be doubted. The Kamenetz Jew is a cross between the Russian and Polish Jew with an inextinguishable love for Roumanian namelige as a supplement.

Except for the children's homes, which at least for the time being, are a problem, which no local organization can solve unaided, Kamenetz-Podolsk really needs no more aid than it is already receiving. The Kamenetz landsmanschaft in the United States has been sending very considerable sums to its friends at home, and the new rich in the border town ought to be made to contribute any additional sums that may be necessary to care for the poor and suffering. It is a pity for the Joint Distribution Committee or for any other foreign Jewish relief organization to spend its funds, so sorely needed elsewhere, in Kemenetz or in other places where the suffering can be relieved locally. Help is often asked from rich organizations on the general principle of "the more we can extract the better."

We went to the children's home directed by the Idgeskom, at the expense of the Joint Distribution Committee. It was cold. The building has no wood. The children blew at their little red hands to keep them warm. The cloths and mufflers and wraps could not drive the shivers away. They are standing up for fear of becoming even colder if they sat down.

But children never complain. In fact they seemed more or less happy. I addressed myself to several little girls of about thirteen or fourteen, and asked them how they liked the home. They considered it and everything in it their own, and took care of it as such. They watched over the smaller inmates, helped the teachers and did the chores, cooking, cleaning, sewing. They asked about America and had no objection to visiting the United States, but their ambition was to teach in the home or in a similar home when they grow up. One wonders whether these girls would be better off in the spirit of a family under parental influence.

While I was thus engaged, Alsberg was standing in the midst of a group and talking to a bright boy of twelve, who had asked where the money came with which the institution was maintained. Alsberg replied that it was collected from the Jews of America. What kind of Jews? the boy inquired. All kinds. But isn't most of the money contributed by working men? Alsberg explained that the Jewish workers had given something, but that very much money came from non-workers. The boy protested. He was sure that this was not so. He was sure probably because he had been told by people who know the truth, but hide it. Many Russians are puzzled by the fact that the bourgeoisie feeds the starving in a Communist country.

In one of the Idgeskom's professional-technical schools, only one class was in session at the time—a class of about fifteen boys ranging from 12 to 14 years of age. The teacher, dressed in his long fur coat and looking very much like a Jew from the old Cheder, was reading aloud from the Yiddish original of Sholom Aleichem's "Motel Paysi der Chazan" chapter III. "What will become of me" (Vos vet zein foon mir), the chapter is entitled.

He reads and then digresses. In the days gone by, he says, Jewish mothers, instead of caring for the health and proper development of the child, worried themselves about its life in the next world. A boy had to study "Ivre" and the so-called holy scriptures so that he might be additted into paradise.

The teacher hands the book to one of the pupils who continues the reading. The boy in the story is describing a garden he admired very much. He speaks of the wonderful fruit that grew in the garden, and especially of the grapes which were used for the "Schecheyonu" blessing on Rosh Hashonah. The teacher interrupts again. The minds of children were so corrupted in those terrible days of the past that a boy thought of grapes not as good things to eat, but as things that grew so that certain religious ceremonies could be performed. This teacher was here now eradicating the "poison."

Vinnitza being a capital city and having fairly good railroad connections is one of the most grievous sufferers from the plague of "Bedouin children."

Conditions in the famine regions in southern Ukraine have been and are recommencing to be so bad that parents send their children north to be more blessed parts of the Ukraine; or children escape from their parents, or the parents die from starvation and children leave their home town. They go as "stow-aways" on freight trains or steal into passenger trains. They will alight at a station, beg for several days, sleep near the tracks, and then, in the darkness of some night, board another train and enter upon another lap of their wanderings. There are thousands of such wandering Jewish children throughout the Ukraine. Forgetting for the moment the demoralization to which they must succumb, their physical plight beggars description. In the murderous cold of a Russian winter, they live twenty-four hours every day in the open, dressed in miserable rags. They are the scavengers of the railroads as the sea gulls are of the steamships.

Sometimes a Jewish institution descends on a station and gathers these creatures unto itself for a brief while. But as yet, no one has the means to cope with the situation.

"Herald" Correspondent Predicts Jewish Massacre In Russia

New York—J.C.B.—Describing the "great confusion" among the Bolshevist diplomatists in consequence of the world-wide protests against the persecution of Christian prelates, Captain M'Cullough, the "New York's Herald's" special correspondent in Moscow in a copyrighted dispatch to his paper, predicts a frightful massacre of Jews "will begin" after the Jewish Communists will lose control.

"The hatred of the people for these renegade Jews is intense and extreme fear for their own lives will draw the latter closer together," is a typical passage in the correspondent's lengthy dispatch.

Capt. M'Cullough in his message to his paper is careful to give the alleged original name with the present names of the Soviet leaders. "Litvinoff—Finkelstein, is in a state of collapse and fright and has refused to see any callers," asserts the reporter, as a result of the British government's protest and a thousand cables at the Foreign Office owing to the fact that the Vicar General already has been executed"..... "Tchicherin has not conferred with Litvinoff, but both refer everyone to Weinstein who, with Cohen and Rubenstein, have charge of Anglo-American affairs."

While referring to the Soviet leaders of Jewish origin as "Jewish Communists, who with Lenin's eclipse dominate Russia," M'Cullough finds Tchitcherin merely "nominally a Christian."

DEMAND BEAVERBROOK NAME JEWS WHO URGED ANTI-ZIONIST WAR

London—J. T. A.—Characterizing as "mere evasion" and "most ridiculous excuse conceivable" the recent statement by Lord Beaverbrook of the "Daily Express" that he declines to divulge the names of the "Committee of British Jews" who, he said, had asked him to oppose Zionism for fear the individuals would be subjected to abuse, the "Jewish World" to-day insists it is imperative that the names be known so that those implicated shall not be left under suspicion.

Lord Beaverbrook's statement about a "Committee of British Jews" who urged him to fight Zionism suggested men like Mr. Henriques Claude Montefiore, Lionel de Rothschild and other opponents of Zionism, declares the "Jewish World." But, it adds, "we could not believe any of these behaved in the way imputed."

The "World" fears, however, that although the Board of Jewish Deputies and the Anglo-Jewish Committee are absolved of suspicion, the League of British Jews is not.

The "World" finally demands that Sir Alfred Mond say what he knows of the matter, because Lord Beaverbrook had said Sir Alfred was once in close alliance with the men responsible.

What is the Social Hygiene Council and What Does It Do?

Rabbi B. R. Bricker is chairman of the technical committee of the Toronto Social Hygiene Council which is staging a big drive this week for increased membership and solid public support. The first statement given out by the Technical Committee, under Rabbi Brickner, is comprehensive, and it emphasizes the fact that the social hygiene movement is essentially a new one, is a race-building, nation-wide job, and offers the greatest opportunities for public service.

Arising in the first place out of the venereal disease problems as disclosed by the war, it has broadened out to include many new, important activities of a highly constructive nature.

The council points out that widespread disease is only an index of underlying social conditions and that it is now no longer necessary to refer to these in that general way which presupposes the impossibilitity or impracticability of solution that specific problems may be discovered one by one by investigators in hospital clinics and their solution attempted by definite methods. In a model community neither the disease nor the underlying cause would exist.

One important matter to be considered by the council and co-operating educational bodies is the matter of education of children in the fundamental facts of life. It is known that unquestionably this matter has been neglected in the past. The proper person to undertake the imparting of such information is the parent, and the council in working out its program for the year will bear this fact in mind.

As in the profession of medicine the ideal to be attained is pure preventive work so in the police court there is much need for a type of administration of the law which will mean that offenders will see the error of their ways to such an extent that they will sin no more. Not punishment, but fairness, understanding of the social causes involved in each case and an attempt to prevent the operation of such causes in the future, will diminish the number of cases brought up in the police courts in future years. Members of the council have watched with interest, efforts made to bring in much needed reform in Toronto police courts recently, and the council will certainly continue to take a practical interest in future sane efforts at administrative and legislative reforms.

In a word the program to be worked out will embody in practical form five requirements. Knowledge of conditions as they are, realization of our own responsibiliites, elimination of disease, education of all for life and work, good-recreation.

The personnel of the technical committee acting under Rabbi Brickner is as follows:—

Chairman, Rabbi Brickner, secretary, Miss Frances Brown, and members, Mrs. A. M. Huestis, Major Florence, Dr. Margaret Patterson, Mrs. E. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, Miss N. Emily Mohr, Frank Sharp, Miss Helen Austin, Rev. Fathers Minehan and Haley, Miss Adelaida Cohen, M. C. MacLean, A. E. S. Smythe, F. N. Stapleford, Reg. Hopper, Major Morrison, Miss Knisely, Miss Mary Power, Taylor Statten, Dr. Gordon Bates, Miss Estelle Hewson Mrs. Brock Wilkins, Dr. Grant Fleming, Dr. R. R. Fleming and R. E. Mills.

The Toronto council is only one of many branch organizations, others being established at Ottawa, Peterboro, Newmarket, Hamilton, Lincoln County at St. Catharines, Welland County at Welland, Niagara Falls, Brantford, Kitchener, London, and Windsor Councils have also been established throughout every province, excepting Quebec and Prince Edward Island. An intensive campaign has just been completed in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and arrangements have already been completed to carry on a campaign in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan to organize branches of the Social Hygiene Council.

The national executive of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council consists of the following: Hon. Mr. Justice W. R. Riddell, chairman, Dr. J. H. Mullen, vice-chariman, Dr. Gordon Bates, general secretary, Mr. L. M. Wood, treasurer, and Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., LL.D., Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, Mr. Ainslie Green, Mr. J. H. Gundy, Mr. J. J. Gibbons and Mr. W. G. Patrick, members of the committee.

The Toronto social hygiene councils are endeavoring to make social hygiene a real community movement, in which every citizen can take an active part by becoming a member of the council. Memberships of three classes have been arranged, ordinary $2.00, sustaining $5.00, and honorary $10.00.

Every citizen should join the council. Fill out the coupon and send in at once to the headquarters of the Toronto Social Hygiene Council.

Are YOU In?

Are You doing all you can to prevent some of Toronto's Misery, Ignorance and Vice?

Are You a Member of the Toronto Social Hygiene Council?

EVERY thinking man and woman "should be in" on this—each should be interested in the prevention of social diseases—the greatest menace to our race.

Sir R. Baden-Powell says: "Get the youth of our land to do their regretting in advance—that's the point—show them the danger. Educate, educate, educate. Tell them, tell the mothers, tell everybody—get the teachers and preachers and doctors to tell them—what a visit to any hospital will disclose. Teach them the deadly perils . . . . ."

It is the teaching and the educating that counts. This is what you will be helping to do when you become a member of The Toronto Social Hygiene Council.

Editorial

"COME! LET US REASON TOGETHER"

We write this caption over our editorial this week in the faith that "Saturday Night" is not an anti-Semitic paper. This because of the caption on its leading article in last week's issue (April 14th) entitled "An Analysis of the Jewish Situation." The word analysis inspires our faith, because it implies objective, impersonal study, with a desire to learn and hence to state the truth.

We confess that we are somewhat overfed with the recent analyses and articles on the Jew in the English periodical press. This plethora of discussion on the Jew some well-meaning, others anti-Semitic has filled us to the gills so that we cry out in desperation "Let us alone,—We are not angels, neither are we devils, we are just human beings, who are like you trying to live the best way we know how, under conditions of life you provide for us—and they are not always the most friendly."

We are particularly tired of seeing and hearing repeated by the modern anti-Semites the same old truck about the Jew. Where, ye gods, is the imagination of our despisers to whom we are a thorn in the flesh. If they would only invent some new charges against us, then we would at least get a thrill. Then the debate might at least prove interesting.

As it is, every new generation of Gentiles learns over again the stupid assinine superstitions and vagaries about the Jews and frankly we are getting weary fetching out the old medicine from the chest in order to administer another dose.

Another thing puzzles us, and also makes us lose respect for our otherwise intelligent Gentile friends, and that is their gullibility at swallowing the sort of buncombe about the Jew that they wouldn't accept about any other people. This in spite of the fact that we have lived in rather neighborly (shall we say too neighborly) quarters with our Gentile neighbors. Is their ignorance of us affected or real? So far as the attitude of "Saturday Night" is concerned, we famkly feel that there is a "little nigger behind the wood-pile."

Mr. Burton Hendrick, whose article on the "Menace of the Polish Jew" they summarize and endorse, states quite bluntly what the nature of his venomous article on the Jew is. He comes out with it. His thesis is that the East European Jews who constitute five-sixths of the Jewish population in America are not fitted for "that assimilation in the economic, political and social life of America which is the supreme test of citizenship. As candidates for assimilation these Jews as they land at Ellis Island are about as promising as a similarly inflowing stream of Hindus or Syrian Druses." Therefore the 3% restriction of the United States on immigration which Mr. Hendrick admits is aimed exclusively at the Jews, represents in his opinion statesman-like wisdom of the highest kind.

In support of this thesis he offers so many sensational, reckless, erroneous, biased, contradictory and one-sided statements as to discredit himself in the eyes of every impartial, thoughtful and intelligent reader. Among his contentions is an invidious distinction, absolutely discredited by all facts, between the Sephardic and German Jews on the one hand, and the Polish Jews on the other. The latter, says he, have absolutely nothing racial or otherwise in common with the former "excepting a common religion." Incidentally this is absolutely untrue. But even if it were—this thing called religion is not so insignificant a factor in Jewish life as the author supposes, and if the Sephardic, German and Polish Jews had nothing in common besides religion, it would be sufficient to make them one people.

To prove this strange argument Mr. Hendrick cites a thesis that Polish Jews differ racially from the Western Jews. The Polish Jews, he says, have Chazar, Slavic, Tartar and Mongol blood in their veins. Concerning this contention suffice it to state that an intimate study of Jewish history and general anthropology prove it to be wholly spurious and untrue. There is no fundamental racial or religious difference between Jew and Jew. Yet this is a sample of the sort of analysis and facts Mr. Hendrick's article is full of.

What we would like to ask "Saturday Night" is what led them to accept as gospel the already discredited analysis of the Jews by Mr. Hendrick and to repeat and endorse his views. Does "Saturday Night" fear that there are too many Polish Jews in Canada already, and that additional increments should be kept out? Is "Saturday Night" endeavoring to cast the fear of the Polish Jewish menace over Canadians in the hope that they will agree with Mr. Hendrick and other Anti-Semites? If this be the case why doesn't "Saturday Night" say so plainly and without hiding under the lambswool of untruthful analysis.

Let us analyse the analysis of "Saturday Night" against the Polish Jews. "The Polish Jews in the United States as a class are hivers —they were not patriotic in the World War—they are the backbone of the Socialist Party. The Yiddish Press of New York City is extremely socialistic, and derives its principles from Karl Marx and not from the American or British history. In a word these Russian and Polish Jews as a whole, though there are many and great exceptions, cared nothing for the higher aspirations of American Nationalism."

If we wanted to be nasty we would ask "Saturday Night" by what right it drags a purely and confessedly U.S.A. condition into Canada and Canadian affairs. Of course if "Saturday Night" means to show Canadians what a mess the Polish Jews have created for our neighbors to the South and by forewarning them also forearming them—then the cat is out of the bag. But "Saturday Night" does not say anything about this—though its leader last week does smell of propaganda in the guise of editorial analysis.

"The Polish Jews are hivers." Are they? The very figure of speech belies the accusation. The hive is composed of drones and thrifty bees the former living off of, and at the expense of the latter. Anyone who truly knows the Polish Jew in America, be he friend or foe, appreciates that they are industrious, thrifty and ambitious. The hive implies clannishness, and insinuates that the Polish Jews form slums. If the Polish Jews are clannish it is not their fault. It is frequently due to the snobbish attitude assumed by these who believe themselves to be 100 percenters. When the Polish Jew, who has acquired a little bit of the world's goods, tries to get into the so-called higher class summer resorts he is rebuffed. When he moves into better neighborhoods the Christian neighbors warn their children not to play with the children of the "sheeneys" and "Christ killers." If they remain in the "wards" they are clannish, if they move out they are "pushy." They are damned if they do and damned if they dont."

The Jew, unlike many of the other elements of Europe, are not slum folks nor the inheritors of slum tendencies. It is only the first generation immigrants, who give that impression. The second generation become so thoroughly assimilated as to arouse the ire, if not the jealousy of their neighbors.

The bridge and musicale given last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Coplan on Clemow Avenue in aid of the Hadassah was a great success in every way. The beautiful residence was prettily decorated throughout with spring flowers, palms and ferns. Mrs. Coplan was assisted in receiving by her sister, Miss Olive Pullan, Mrs. Wm. Holzman and Mrs. Geo. Wolf were conveners for the bridge, which was played at twenty tables. A prize for each table was generously given by Mrs. Coplan, who also provided the dainty refreshments, so that all the money from the sale of tickets was clear profit for the funds of the organization, and over one hundred and fifty dollars was realized. Presiding at the tea-table were Mrs. L. Leiken, Mrs. J. Holzman, Mrs. H. Freedman and Mrs. J. Freedman. Assisting them were Mrs. J. J. Marks, Mrs. H. Metrick, Mrs. J. Edelstein, Mrs. Gluck and the Misses Slonemsky. A leather handbook kindly given by Mr. G. Wolf was raffled by Mrs. H. Dover and won by Mr. D. Mirsky.

The next event on the program of the ocal Hadassah chapter will be the lmusical comedy "Katcha-Koo," which will be staged at the Family Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, April 25 and 26, under the auspices of both senior and junior chapters. This is being produced under the direction of Mr. Phil. D. Merriam of the John B. Rogers Company of New York, with Miss Lillian Ginsberg of this city as assistant director. About one hundred and fifty young people are taking part in the performance and rehearsals are in full swing. The piece has an oriental setting and is replete with tuneful melodies; these coupled with pretty girls and effective costumes should all combine to make this event a memorable one in the annals of Hadassah entertainments in this city. Following in the cast of characters: Dolly—Miss Pauline Gould; Prudence—Miss Pearl Slonemsky (both daughters of) Mrs. Chattie Gaddin—Mrs. H. Dover. Two slaves—Solejaband Urbala—Misses Blanche Millar and Mae Brodie. The four wives of the Maharajah; Chinese wife—Miss Rose Max: French wife—Miss Freda Lecovin; Brazilian wife—Miss Rose Richter; Irish wife—Miss Rose Miller. Katcha-Koo Mr. Charles Abrahams; Maharajah—Mr. Moe Hirsch; two American tourists—Dick and Harry—Messrs. Dave Millar and Sam Goldberg. Boddy Pah—Bernard Brodie; fan-bearers—Herbert Myers and Lawrence Freiman: device-bearer—Julius Goldberg; gong-beater—Sollie Max. The choruses, members of whom are too numerous to mention include veil-dancers, oriental ladies, auld lang syne group and children of all nations. The solo dancer is Miss Miriam Caplan; Miss Canada is playep by Miss Millie Gorfinkle, with three children in attendance, Mimi Rothart, Bertha Sydney and Edgar Marks as Uncle Sam.

The Misses Sylvia Dover and Anna Golub were joint hostesses at a Junior Hadassah tea last week. Presiding at the tea-table, which was charmingly decorated with daffodils, were Mrs. Nathanson, Mrs. Marks and Mrs. H. Dover. Those who assisted in serving tea were the Misses Ray Edelstein, M. Spector, Helen Douglas, Fanny Zivian and Jean Ross.

Through an error it was announced in this column two weeks ago that Samuel Rzeschewski, the young Jewish chess wizard, was in Ottawa. He is here this week, playing all comers at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, and we will announce the results next week. While in the city he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Frieman.

Mr. Bernard H. Fogle, financial secretary of Ottawa Lodge, I.O.B.B., has returned to the city from Montreal, where he attended the annual ball of the Mount Royal Lodge, Bnai Brith, held at the Mount Royal Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kert entertained at a delightful birthday party on Sunday afternoon in honor of their son, Morley, on the occasion of his seventh birthday. The tea-table was effectively arranged with American beauty roses and red candles, and was presided over by Mrs. A. Kert of Ottawa and Mrs. S. Kolber of Montreal, the two grandmothers of little Morley. Among the present were: Rose Sinclair, Margaret and Madeleine Charlebois, Sylvia and Marjorie Margoshes, Helen Diamond, Lionel and Edgar Marks, Fischel Sugarman, David Middleman, and Bernie Sabloff.

The Misses Dorothy and Maebelle Goltman have left for New York, Atlantic City, Washington and Philadelphia.

"Sometimes when people censure me,
I tell them without rancour
That for what it cost me to be free
I might have had an anchor."

The Canadian Jewish Chronicle (comic supplement of the Jewish Daily Eagle, of Montreal) staggers up out of its supreme disgust to take us smartly in hand for the blithe, impertinent manner in which we, in this column, handled the recent "slaying" by a misguided contributor to this paper of the poet Bialik. In so doing the Chronicle reprints most of what we had to say on the subject and while we should be flattered and grant that for the Chronicle to wish to print something readable occasionally is commendable, our feelings are hurt just the same at the indecent way it lifted out chunks of our best stuff and, as is its usual custom, offered the worst of it to its readers. This column is not copyrighted and all we ask is to be quoted properly in all our dazzling cleverness, it being quite possible for us to "slay" Bialik in an idle mood without wanting to be murdered ourselves. We recognized ourselves at once when the Chronicle spoke of the Review's "funny column," but as the office boy giggles "we have only one funny column, while their whole paper's funny." Bialik, we are sure, would take his "death" as a joke as Rudolph Schildkraut did when he said "the reason I came back to life was that I didn't like the obituaries they wrote about me." But the most popular causes of war are economic and we can't expect the Chronicle to take our printed "slaying" of Bialik with the same equanimity that Bialik himself would. One of the reasons for this being our advertising staff (long may it flourish as the green bay trees and the cedars of Lebanon!) So having drawn and quartered us and pinned our skin upon the wall over its desk the Chronicle cruelly bellows that "comment and criticism seem utterly superfluous." Ho, hum. Leave it to us and the entire Chronicle is superfluous.

Speaking of the troubles of a weary world, what we receive in confidence from the social department would fill a book. Not only must we be faced weekly with the attractive details of all the parties we aren't invited to but let a hostess refuse news for fear of making a few more enemies, then wax angry because it isn't printed right and here comes the social page to ask us for redress of wrong. Does a woman wheedle the social page into accepting a club item "as is" and then object to reciprocating with an account of the last bridge she attended? Here comes the page to us to be restrained from violence but asking us to take up the matter in this unabashed rectangle of observation. However, we don't intend to mention the ingratitude of those who can take but not give, nor yet the vagaries of ladies when they're overheated. It's not in our sphere and we steadfastly refuse to say a thing about it.

* * *

We'll call them Mr. Cohen and Mr. Levy because those are not the real names. Mr. Cohen is the scion of a wealthy house, known at home and abroad as one of the chief local repositories for culture, polish and the other charms which evolved humans possess. Now let us see how he behaves when annoyed. First we must announce into the presence Mr. Levy, a gentleman bent on good work, taking time from his private affairs to solicit funds for the Keren Hayesod. He gives his name and is greeted with an impersonal pleasantness. He announces his mission and an electrical change comes over Mr. Cohen who is suddenly the busiest man in Toronto and must look over the pressing matter of the last mail. Though at a disadvantage, Mr. Levy continues to talk of the purpose of his visit while the cultured Mr. Cohen allows him an occasional fleeting glance. But it finally gets too annoying for the host and he snaps out: "What did you say your name was?"

"Why—er—Levy."

"All right, Mr. Levy. Good-day, sir."

There was probably just one thing that sustained Mr. Levy to the street—that he wasn't asking bread for himself, anyway. If he had been, the means taken to eject him might not have been so gentle as they were.

Hadassah

Twenty teams consisting of nearly two hundred workers participated in the whirlwind three-day Hadassah campaign for the Keren Hayesod. Approximately four thousand dollars in cash and a large amount of pledges were secured.

A final drive to clean up the outstanding cards will take place next Sunday morning and afternoon and the results will be announced at the Allen Theatre meeting, Richmond and Victoria Streets, next Sunday night, April 22, at which the noted Zionist leader, Dr. Schnarya Levin will be the guest of honor.

Hadassah members and friends are invited.

The house committee acknowledges the receipt of the following donations for the building: piano donated by Mrs. M. Geldzahler, plants by Mrs. Dubensky, rubber plant by Mrs. Friefield, vacuette by Mrs. Harry Miller.

Further donations will be acknowledged through the columns of the REVIEW.

DEBORAH CHAPTER TEA

The Deborah chapter of Hadassah are giving a tea at the Zionist Institute on Sunday, April 22. Many interesting novelties will feature it.

HERZL-HADASSAH

What promises to be the outstanding event of the season will be the Herzl-Hadassah review which will take place at Loew's Winter Garden on Tuesday, May 1, next.

The feature of the evening will be a musical review entitled "Barney Google" in which the now historic race between Spark Plug himself and Suzanne takes place.

JEWISH BOYS' CLUB

The challenge of the boys of Hebrew Lyceum was well taken by the boys of the Men of David, with Ben Robinovitz as their manager, who played a splendid game of indoor ball at Oxide School on Saturday afternoon last, which resulted in a score of 15 to 3 in favour of the Men of David. The Men of David will meet Mimico Saturday.

There are many activities taking place at the club house, such as debates, checkers, crokinole, carom and other tournaments.

The club can still use any articles that you have discarded, such as books, book-cases, records, clocks, chairs, tables and a piano. Please communicate with M. E. Williams, Adelaide 0072.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ADVOCATES "FLEXIBLE" QUOTA

Washington, D. C. (J. T. A.)—The adoption of a flexible system in the selection of immigrants to supplement the present restrictive methods is urged in the report of the Immigration Committee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. The members of the committee are apparently principally concerned with bringing the best from the Nordic countries of Europe as to 3 per cent.

The committee advocates that an additional number equal to two per cent. of the foreign-born persons of each nationality resident in the United States in 1920 be admitted annually, a limited number of selected immigrants may be admitted despite the exhaustion of regular quotas.

Dr. James L. Hughes Addresses Bnai Brith

"The examination system in schools is wrong, and 95% of the people in Ontario favour it," declared Dr. James L. Hughes, addressing the B'nai B'rith Lodge at the Prince George Hotel, Monday evening.

"Every child has some power greater than any other; that is his selfhood," Dr. Hughes said, "yet the school tries to make all children alike. This dwarfs their souls. To kindle the selfhood of every individual at the centre of his power is the greatest good the school can do. In other words let the child do that which he likes best to do.

"I would not advise any parent to attempt to choose the profession of his child. Let the child do that himself—then help to give him the best education you can afford."

Dr. Hughes strongly defended the kindergarten, and declared that if the authorities succeeded in abolishing it, their successors would very soon bring it back.

TURKS LOVE JEWS, SAYS ANGORA LEADER

New Turkish Government Not Interested in Palestine

New York (J. C. B.).—"We Turks love the Jew and we know that the Jew loves us," Dr. Fuad Bey, former Minister of the Interior in the Angora government who arrived here a few days ago, declared in an interview with a representative of the Jewish Correspondence Bureau.

"During the war," continued the Angora leader, "the Jews did not follow the example of other minorities to combine with the European powers in order to create trouble for Turkey. We will never forget this."

Replying to a query concerning the attitude of the Angora government to Palestine, Dr. Bey said "The National Pact, a charter which was worked out by the National Assembly, claims for Turkey only those territories where there are a majority of Turks; for the other provinces which form a part of Turkey, self-rule. We are practically not interested in Palestine. The inhabitants of Palestine will have to fight their battles for themselves."

GORKY AND REICHSTAG PRESIDENT ATTEND MARTOFF FUNERAL

Berlin (J. T. A.)—Covered by a mass of flowers sent by Socialist organizations from all parts of the world, the urn of ashes containing the remains of Leo Martoff, the Jewish leader of the Russian Menshevik party who died as an exile several days ago in Berlin, was buried to-day.

The President of the Reichstag, prominent Socialist leaders representing the principal countries of Europe, the Russian writer, Maxim Gorky, and a host of other notables were present and eulogized Martoff.

The aged wife of Karl Kautsky was present and explained that her husband was unable to be present on account of illness. She read a letter from her husband, paying tribute to the personality of Martoff.

A large number who had planned to send flowers instead gave the money intended for that purpose for the fund for political prisoners, in accordance with the wish expressed by Martoff before his death.

According to reports from various sources, serious anti-Jewish disturbances took place in the past few days at Ukranian in connection with an uprising against the government.

EDITOR,

CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW:

As a more or less regular reader of your interesting periodical may I request the favour of a small space in it for the purpose of presenting a subject which, I believe, has not been heretofore broached publicly through a Jewish medium.

During the past decade or so, there has been an unmistakable trend in the growth of the Jewish community of this city towards musical development and education of every type. We find our conservatories filled with Jewish children of all ages, musical instruments in nearly all homes, and the majority of talented executants, if not yet creators, few. In all fields of music they have their share of work.

However, notwithstanding all this growth there is yet one phase which has not been properly, if at all, developed and this is more important than all the others. What I mean is the almost criminal negligence and lack of interest in the attitude of our communal educationists, or leading thinkers and citizens, towards this most beautiful of arts. The finest and most highly educated men and women, the veritable pillars of the Jewish community are indifferent, nay, almost apathetic towards what is best in music. One can pick men at random, who, otherwise brilliantly educated, and deeply versed on many, many subjects, betray the most astounding and woeful ignorance when music is spoken of seriously.

To digress for a moment, I can say that even most sage, hoary "professors of art," profoundly learned as they are, openly admit to musicians of any standing their comparatively total lack of knowledge of music. There are those who may claim that vice versa is also true. But that is not the case, at least from my experience. I believe, as a fact, that any musician with as much knowledge of his own art, as the professor of his, can also speak with authority on literature, graphic arts or sculpture; and that, to the "professor," who usually, in his turn, must preserve a discreet silence, or, at the most, argue feebly on music. You will agree that such a state of affairs is not complimentary to the intellects, or would-be intellects, of any community. Nevertheless, it is calmly tolerated, even by musicians. However, there is one redeeming feature of their ignorance. They keep silent usually, or are very hesitant with the expression of their views or criticisms. It is precisely here that the truth, "fools rush in—" applies. All over the city (or really the world I suppose) one finds blockheads who fearlessly and shamelessly express the most atrociously foolish and unauthoritative opinions. Moreover they remain unshaken by any remonstrance from those who really know whereof they speak.

There is no reason for the existing condition. Information on music is available in all public libraries. There is no need for ignorance of anything when knowledge is easily obtainable. Which Jewish citizen of prominence has ever given a lecture or talk here on music and its influence on life? I cannot recall one. We have fine orators here who invariably arouse public interest in the topic they speak on. Why cannot those rhetorical powers be turned into the stream of musical, really musical, development for the community?

Yours respectfully,

MAX NELLER.

JEWISH PROFESSOR MAKES BLIND SEE

Petrograd, (J. T. A.)—A Jewish physician, Professor Katz of Petrograd, has devised an operation by which the blind are able to see, according to a story printed by the Petrograd correspondent of the New York World.

All that is necessary for the operation to be successful, says Katz, is that the light perception nerves are intact. In more than fifty per cent. of the blind cases this condition exists. The operation includes the insertion of a celluloid cup into the socket of the eye, so that the light is reflected through it.

The "Vossiche Zeitung" here published a telegram from Lemberg stating that a revolt had broken out in Ukraine attended by attacks on Jews. The report declares that Jews are fleeing in masses to the Polish frontier.

HAKENKREUZER MILITARY DEMONSTRATION CANCELLED
Jews Protest Commercial Boycott

Vienna (J. T. A.).—Following warnings by the police that stern measures would be resorted to, if the proposed Hakenkreuzer military manoeuvres were held, leaders of that organization announced that the demonstration had been cancelled.

The martial exercises of the anti-Semitic organization were intended as a threat against the Jews.

The Hakenkreuzer are continuing the publication in their newspapers of blacklists of Jewish business houses, while leading Jews condemn the government for its alleged mildness towards the anti-Semites, particularly demanding that the Vienna Chamber of Commerce come out outspokenly against the economic boycott. The Jews further charge that Dr. Conrad, the secretary of the Vienna Chamber of Commerce, is himself a member of the Hakenkreuzer organization.

DR. BOGEN'S LIBRARY CAUSES ARREST

Warsaw (J. T. A.)—The desire of Dr. Boris D. Bogen of the Joint Distribution Committee to enlarge his library occasioned a great amount of trouble to one of the employees of the Joint here.

The employee was instructed to call at the Warsaw post office for a parcel of scientific books by Communist authors which Dr. Bogen had ordered to be shipped to his home library in New York. When the employee called he was arrested. After considerable explanation by the Joint officials that the books were intended for Dr. Bogen's personal use, the employee was released. The books however were confiscated.

Women's Choral Society Meet at Synagog

The annual concert this year will be held on Monday, April 23, at Loew's Winter Garden.

Hebrew Culture Club Meets

The Hebrew Culture Club Tarbuth which meets at the Zionist Institute every Sunday had an interesting meeting Sunday, April 15. Rabbi Siegel, president of the organization was unable to attend and Mr. Nathanson was asked to take the chair. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Silverstein, of Montreal, who delivered an address on the works and views of the famous Hebrew author, Micha Joseph Berdychewsky. There was a lively discussion after the lecture, led by Mr. Bardenstein. The meeting was conducted entirely in Hebrew.

McCAUL STREET SYNAGOG Ladies' Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary of McCaul Street Synagog held their third regular meeting April 15. Mrs. Siegal delivered a very able address uring women to awaken the orthodox Hebrew feeling amongst the Jewish children.

At a meeting held Saturday evening, April 14, in the Orange Hall, Euclid and College Streets, very important business was discussed for the interest of the Judean lodge. Several new candidates were proposed.

After the conclusion of the meeting, the officers challenged the members to a game of carpetball, the members winning.

OLD TESTAMENT DE-JUDAIZED AND GERMANIZED

Berlin (J. T. A.).—The Old Testament has been revarnished a bit, the Jewish names exchanged for one hundred per cent. Teutonic ones, and the Jewish Scriptures can now be read by even a Bavarian anti-Semite without danger of Jewish infection. All of this has been accomplished by the German national author Heinrich Lhotzky, who has just published a book in which the Old Testament is re-written in Old Germanic terms. The books of the Bible are according to old Germanic mythology "Wihinei," "Urd," "Werdandi" "Skult."

According to Lhotzky, Urd is Abraham. Under Werdandi, the history of Rebecca and the combat between Esau and Jacob is told. Under Skult, the story of Joseph is related. In a similar way, the whole of the Old Testament has been retold.

Max Maurenbrecher, chief editor of the German national organ "Deutsche Zeitung," welcomes the book as an attempt to de-Judaize and its place Germanize the Old Testament.

"Many German nationals," he writes, "will regard the book as a solution of their present difficulty, inasmuch as we must reject the Holy Scriptures in so far as they are the Scriptures of the Jewish people. The difficulty is solved when we realize that the Old Testament is greater than Judaism, that it is the revelation of a vast power which was not really understood by the Jews and which Judaism has brought to degeneration. Many clergymen after reading this book will again have the courage to preach from Old Testament texts. All national teachers to whom the Biblical stories have hitherto been a difficulty, will find in this book how to tell the Old Testament stories to Germans and make them live."

The synagogues of Galatz were invaded by mobs of anti-Semites during the Passover services who attacked the worshippers. Owing to police intervention none of the Jews were seyerely wounded.

D. C. ZIONISTS ATTACKED FOR HALL RENTAL

Washington (J. T. A.).—The local newspapers are giving a great deal of notoriety to the Washington Zionists for the rental of their hall for a communist meeting. The owner of the hall has, as a consequence, cancelled the lease of the Zionists. The Zionists declare the communists got the hall under false pretences.

According to the newspapers, James P. Cannon, Chairman of the Workers Party, who was the speaker at the meeting defended the Soviet action in executing the Catholic Vicar-General.

The newspapers quote scores of Christian clergymen in protest against the meeting.

The editor of the Socialist paper "Naprzod," at Cracow, Hecker and his entire family have become converts to Christianity.

As the scrolls of the wedding march sounded Messrs. Lee Schwartz and Louis Freeries, who acted as ushers, came down the aisle, followed on the occasion by white satin ribbons, and followed the groom, Mr. Jack Greenberg, best man. Misses Lily Lerne and Irene Greenberg were the bride's attendants, carrying old fashioned bouquets. The mother of the bride came next and then the bride, on the arm of her father.

The bride wore a dress of duchesse satin which had been her mother's wedding gown. Lace formed the cap, which was trimmed with orange blossoms and from which flowed the long veil. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Fisher received in the gold, wearing a gown of white crepe with gold trimmings.

After the ceremony the guests adjourned to the yellow room for the wedding dinner. The table represented a huge horse shoe, the bride's table forming the arc. Dutch tulips graced the centre of the table, the horse shoe was outlined with green and silver with tulips, sweet peas, roses and lilies.

Editorial

"The Polish Jews of the U.S.A. were not patriotic." By their own admission Mr. Hendrick and "Saturday Night" state that the overwhelming majority of Jews in the U.S.A. are of East European origin. The Jews form 3% of the U.S.A. population, yet the army and navy records show that there were about 250,000 Jewish men in the service, or 5% of the total U.S.A.'s armed forces, which numbered 4,800,000 men. Of the 250,000 Jewish men, 150,000 were drafted the other one-third volunteered. Hundreds of these men were decorated for their valor. The 77th division, which fought so gallantly, and which contained the famous "Lost Battalion" whose heroism won commendation the world over, was composed exclusively of Polish immigrant Jews from the East Side of New York City. Is all this a sign of lack of patriotism or being slackers?

What does the Polish Jew produce? There are in the U.S.A. about 600,000 heads of Jewish families. Compare this with the fact that about 500,000 alone are engaged in the needle industries, and decide for yourself whether the Jews are producers. Practically the entire population of the U.S.A. is supplied with clothing by Jews.

The Jewish Trade Unions are the best organized unions. I mean the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and the International Ladies Garment Workers' Unions. They have the highest standards and from the point of view of the employer are the most reliable to deal with.

The Jews are accused of being the backbone of the Socialist Party in the U.S.A. To prove this we are directed to Morris Hillquit —but what about Eugene Debs, Victor Berger, Scott Nearing and a host of others too numerous to mention. Are they Jews? With 1,500,000 Jews in New York City the Socialist Party rarely succeeds in electing a Socialist Congressman, and if the political parties there were less corrupt, the Socialist Party would even stand a slimmer chance. We are not arguing that the Jews do not have the right to be Socialists if they choose to. A man may be a perfectly good citizen and in politics a Socialist. Are the members of the British Labor Party in England bad Britishers? Possibly in the view of hide bound reactionaries, if a man holds political views other than theirs, he is a dangerous menace. Possibly "Saturday Night" in its hatred of Bolshevism lumps all Socialists with dangerous radicals. In this view they are profoundly mistaken and in deems hopelessly in error.

Of the five Yiddish dailies in New York City only two are Socialistic. The other three, which have by far the largest combined circulation, have no connection whatsoever with Socialism. They are the best Americanizing agencies that can be devised. Through their columns the Yiddish readers acquire excellent knowledge of American History, Literature and Civics. The Yiddish "Forverts" railed at by "Saturday Night" has been most highly praised by Professor Parkes of the University of Chicago and a noted sociologist in his book on the foreign-born Press, published by the Carnegie Foundation, which certainly can not be accused of being a socialist agency.

The "Forverts" has tried to teach its readers English by printing daily lessons in both Yiddish and English in its columns. It introduces English words wherever possible in the vocabulary of Yiddish. It prints translations of the best in American and English literature. It publishes original articles on American and British history. In all this proof that the Yiddish press is supreme in loyalty to American interests. Compared to the yellow journals in America and Canada, the Yiddish papers are models of virtue.

We do not feel troubled in over-burdening this present editorial by citing the long list of Jews in America whose names are associated with great contributions to America's industrial, social and cultural life.

It seems that the editors of "Saturday Night" and Mr. Burton Hendrick, who by the way has long been known as a foe to the Jew by his few passing activities as a biographer, did not read the article in MacClure's Magazine of the "Jews versus Prussia" when dealing with the "Jews versus Germany" they misinterpret the facts and what they have stated is the very opposite.

We sincerely hope that "Saturday Night" will in the future either try to be fair to the Jews or else bring impressive proofs to them, which let us close.

Montefiore Club

The members of the Montefiore Club held a successful smoker in their club rooms recently. During the afternoon they were addressed by Captain Jack Wilton, ex-Member of the Legislative Assembly, his subject being "The Need of an Industrial Research Bureau," following which a discussion took place.

Sunday afternoon, April 15th, the Montefiore Club and B'nai B'rith members are holding a joint smoker at the Montefiore club rooms, which promises to be a very entertaining afternoon for those who attend. An interesting programme has been arranged, consisting of our best local talent, and views of both organizations will be exchanged, followed by a general discussion.

Following the recent fire in the club rooms, which caused considerable damage, the place was newly decorated and refurnished and now presents a homelike and cosy appearance for the members.

Presentation to Mr. H. L. Weidman

The trustees of the congregation of the Shaarey Zedek Synagogue waited on Mr. H. L. Weidman at his residence, Furby Street, Monday evening, April 9th, to present the following address and to say good-bye. The presentation was made by Mr. Max Steinkopf, president, with a suitable speech. Rabbi Samuel also spoke. Afterwards a repast was served at which a number of tributes and expressions of good wishes to the Weidman brothers were made. The directors of the Talmud Torah were also present, on behalf of whom Mr. H. E. Goldin, president, handed Mr. Weidman a beautiful gold mounted ebony cane suitably inscribed. Following is a copy of the address:

The good wishes of the congregation go with Messrs. H. L. and M. Weidman on their trip to Europe and Palestine. They have spent nearly forty-one years in Winnipeg, during the whole of which time their influence has been a dominant one in the community, especially in the upholding of orthodoxy. Their favorite hobbie has always been the Talmud Torah. Mr. H. L. Weidman has been chairman of the Board of Education since it was built, and Mr. M. Weidman was for some time one of its most active and successful directors.

The following is the text of the illuminated address presented to Mr. H. L. Weidman by the congregation:

It has been unanimously resolved by the members of the congregation, in general meeting assembled, to express to you their high appreciation of your work as president during the past two years.

Your occupancy of this office saw also the completion of forty years' residence in Winnipeg, during the whole of which long period you have devoted yourself unceasingly and unsparingly to the service of this congregation.

Your activities have been ineatimably useful in the establishment and advancement of the Jewish community of Winnipeg, in the upholding therein of the worthy traditions of our faith, and particularly in the unremitting attention which you have given at all times and in all ways to the sacred cause of Hebrew education.

The members of the congregation trust that you will be spared for many years to enjoy the respect and regard of those who have worked with you and of those who have benefitted and are benefitting by the results of your endeavors, and that the congregation may have for a long time to come the advantage of your labors which have contributed so largely to its welfare and to the maintaining of its dignity and its proud position of leadership in the community.

They trust that you may be blessed with long life, together with your faithful spouse, "And as thy days, so may be thy strength."

Signed,

MAX STEINKOPF, Pres.
MAURICE HALTER, Vice-Pres.

The Y.M.H.A. Goes to the People

After an existence of five years, marked by great activity in all branches of communal work, the Young Men's Hebrew Association of Winnipeg has been forced to come to the business men of the city for assistance. On the 31st of March the Association closed its doors—and opened them on the 1st of April with an entirely new membership. It has undergone a complete renovation and reorganization, and the lastest step is the formation of a committee of business and professional men and women under the distinguished chairmanship of Mr. Allan Bronfman, this committee taking over the entire organization.

A monster membership campaign will be under way by the end of this week, membership being solicited in both the active and associate classifications, from the 'teen age girl and boy who will receive actual concrete benefit from this membership, to the business man whose interest is that of the father and adviser.

In the Y.M.H.A. movement is the solution of the ever-growing problem of the assimilation of the Jew by the other races of the world.

SWISS LAUNDRY
105 Simcoe Street

Thursday, April 5, at the Talmud Torah Hall, in honor of Messrs. H. L. and M. Weidman, senior members of Weidman Bros., Limited, the occasion being the departure of these gentlemen on an extended trip to Europe and Palestine. After supper was served, the chairman of the evening, Mr. P. S. Rogers, briefly outlined the goodwill and esteem in which they are held by all present, after which toasts of the evening were drunk.

Among the speakers were Mrs. J. P. Weidman, Mrs. H. L. Weidman, Miss D. Dobrovitch, Messrs. A. A. Hershfield, N. J. Weidman, N. Lifshitz, J. Gorsky, J. P. Weidman, A. E. Weidman, B. J. Kotlarsky, J. J. Weidman, M. J. Rusen, J. G. Kirshner, S. H. Weidman, A. D. Divinsky, Z. Garber, E. Trestar, B. H. Weidman, and I. H. Polinsky. The honored guests were then presented with diaries, and, as Mr. I. H. Polinsky expressed himself, "The celebration will be greater still when the trip will be successfully completed and our honored guests after returning will read to us their memoirs."

Messrs. H. L. and M. Weidman's speeches were an expression of fatherly feelings toward their children. With a toast to our Nation, Hatikvah, and God Save the King, the affair was brought to an end.

Messrs. H. L. and M. Weidman are amongst the pioneer Jews of Western Canada, over forty years of their lives having been spent in the West. They went through all the hardships of pioneering and the harvest they are reaping now is well deserved. There is not a charitable institution in Winnipeg that these gentlemen do not support, especially good work was done by Mr. H. L. Weidman in connection with the Talmud Torah, where for ten years he has presided over the Board of Education.

Montreal

The Montreal campaign to raise funds for Keren Hayesod ended officially last Wednesday night. Although complete returns have not yet been received, there is every reason for considering the drive successful in every way, for from all indications the $100,000 mark has been reached. The spirit of the Jewish men and women was splendid. Every member of the community was appealed to individually for a contribution. Rabbis and presidents of the synagogs delivered exhortations that stressed the significance of the Foundation Fund. Every Jewish organization helped to make the appeal a strong one. Hundreds of canvassers, both men and women, volunteered to visit Jewish manufacturers, merchants, workers and private citizens for contributions. To pave the way for the canvassers, Mrs. A. J. Freiman of Ottawa, president of Canadian Hadassah, who came to Montreal to launch the campaign, sent thousands of letters broadcast in the community.

From the campaign headquarters at the Mount Royal Hotel, operations were directed by the following officials: Mrs. A. J. Freiman, chairman of Hadassah; Mr. Louis Fitch, chairman; Mr. A. Levin, treasurer; Mr. Leon Goldman, secretary; Mrs. S. Kahn, chairman of office activities with 50 young ladies associated with her; Mrs. E. G. Bernstein, chairman of the ladies' canvassing teams; Mr. L. Miller and Mr. H. L. Sourkes, joint chairman of the men's canvassing teams; Miss Ida Seigler, chairman of the speaker's committee; Mr. M. Dickstein, chairman of the organization committee.

There was a special subscription's committee composed of the following: A. J. Freiman, president of the Zionist Organization of Canada; Louis Fitch, vice-president, Zionist Organization; A. Levin, treasurer of the Zionist Organization of Canada; Dr. John Shayne, Leon Goldman, H. L. Sourkes, J. Fineberg; Laz. Phillips; M. Garber, J. Horowitz, B. Perelmutter, H. Wolofsky and L. Miller.

A special children's campaign, organized by Miss Lena Ashkaloney, was carried on in conjunction with the Big Drive. Appeals for contributions to Keren Hayesod were made to the children by speakers who addressed groups in every Sunday School, Talmud Torah and free school in the city. The children were particularly enthusiastic, and hundreds of them called at Zionist Headquarters to make their contribution and to receive a little Keren Hayesod button. The following were among the speakers who addressed groups of children last Sunday morning: Miss Ida Seigler, Miss Elizabeth Notkin, Miss Lena Ashkaloney, Messrs. Otto Klineberg, Max Bernfeld, Leon Crestohl, David Shermer, Phil. Meyerovitch, Harold Freeman, D. Mendelovitch, Bernard Cohen. The April number of "The Judaean," the official publication of the Federation of Young Judaea of Canada, contains a number of forceful articles that deal with the facts about Palestine. In his editorial, Philip Joseph says that "We suffer from an appalling disease of crass ignorance of conditions in Palestine.

Stop feeding us on theories. Give us the facts about Palestine. Tell us what we have accomplished in Palestine. Tell us of the dangers in the land. Tell us of the Arab problem. Tell us about our shortcomings. Tell us of our successes. But tell it to the whole Jewish world. Broadcast it. Don't keep the facts hidden away in pamphlets. Give us information about the growth of Palestine—its daily momentary growth, so that equipped with the facts we can honestly combat discouraging propaganda, convince ourselves, maintain the strength of our confidence and spread this genuine, solid front throughout our ranks.

True to its policy, "The Judaean," which has been in existence but one year, has done much to spread whole truths about the homeland. This month, which marks the first birthday of the magazine, is a good time for the renewal of subscriptions.

KEREN HAYESOD

On Monday evening, April 9, Dr. Alexander Goldstein addressed the workers for the campaign which was to begin on the following day. The meeting was held in the building of the United Hebrew Association, and those who came late were compelled to stand outside the hall to listen to the brilliant address of Dr. Goldstein. The room was filled with the canvassers who were eager to begin their work, which was to start the next day. Credit must be given to the members of the Hadassah who had volunteered for this work. Sixty ladies started out enthusiastically and continued during the entire three days of the campaign. The business men's committee worked energetically and brought in good results.

A mass meeting was held on Thursday evening, April 12, in the Beth Jacob Synagog, Dr. Goldstein being the speaker of the evening. Mr. Wm. Farrar spoke to the large gathering also Rabbi Berger and the chairman of the campaign, Mr. David Sweet. A further collection was taken at the meeting, which considerably augmented the sums already brought in by the canvassers. The returns are not yet completed, as a number of people have not yet been approached for their contribution.

The Hadassah ladies tendered a dinner to Dr. Goldstein on Thursday evening before the mass meeting. Among the guests were Messrs. D. Sweet, Wm. Farrar, Rabbi and Mrs. Berger and many others.

St. Catharines

Zionism has been given a little boost in this community of late. A fortnight or so ago, Dr. J. Shayne gave an instructive address on Zionish, under the auspices of the St. Catharines Hebrew Club. Partly as a result of the enthusiasm created by Dr. Shayne, a Zionist society was formed here and Dr. Goldstein was invited to come to this city. He addressed a large audience last Wednesday night, April 11, creating a warm feeling for the Zionist cause. After that, Dr. Volpe, who was chairman for the evening, had no difficulty in raising $315 cash on the spot, besides some pledges. Those present gave their donations freely without requiring the assistance of chloroform to make the operation painless. A committee consisting of Messrs. Hoffman, Newman, Zarinsky and Aberman are still canvassing the absentees.

A reception in honor of Dr. Goldstein was given by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hoffman on Wednesday, April 11, at their home, Queenston Street. The following were present: Miss L. Schovatsky, president ladies auxiliary; Miss B. Zarinsky, secretary ladies auxiliary; Mr. J. Gross, president St. Catharines Hebrew Club; Mr. M. Fine of Buffalo; Mr. Wolfish of Toronto; Mr. J. Andrews of Toronto; Dr. and Mrs. Volpe.

The guests were received by Mrs. Noffman who wore a black Alencon silk crepe gown, trimmed with metallic beads. Assisting her was Miss Zarinsky in a brown flat crepe evening gown. After an enjoyable supper, the entire party went to the Kerith Memorial meeting.
